Angora Goats and Sheep in California.

The New York Times of the 24th of January has a letter from a correspondent in this State, from which we extract an interesting account of some of the great sheep and goat ranchos of California. The writer begins with:

THE SANTA CRUZ COMPANY.

The Santa Cruz Island Company was organized in 1869, having been incorporated under State authority, with half a million dollars' capital, for carrying on the business of sheep-husbandry, stock-raising, etc. The Island of Santa Cruz, one of the Santa Barbara group, was purchased by the company as a field of operations. This island, which has a superficial area of 52,700½ acres, as per patent, was originally granted to a Spaniard, Andres Castillero, by Alvarado, Governor of the Californians, May 22, 1839, and the grant was subsequently confirmed by the Board of United States Land Commissioners, and by the District Court of the Southern District of California; the patent bearing the date March 21, 1867. In 1857 it was bought from Castillero by an American, Wm. E. Barron, by whom it was held as a private property, used for sheep-raising, until it was bought by

THE SANTA CRUZ COMPANY.

The officers of this Company are all naturalized citizens, including two Germans, two Spaniards, and one Frenchman. The buildings and improvements of all sorts located on five different points of the island, are valued at from $20,000 to $40,000, exclusive of steam tallow works erected two years ago at the expense of about $6,000. The wharf at Prisoner's Harbor, recently restored, has cost the company no less than $10,000. The fences all over the island represent a prime cost, since the purchase by the present owners, of about $6,000. The schooner and surf boats have cost not less than $6,000; and the stock of wagons, saddles, agricultural implements, etc., may be valued at about $2,500. There are now running at liberty over the island flocks of Spanish Merino sheep, numbering between 40,000 and 45,000 head, worth, according to the season of the year—that is to say, with or without wool on—from $2 to $3 50 each, and representing an aggregate value of $150,000. Besides these

IMMENSE FLOCKS

There is a stud of about 125 saddle and draft horses and mules, some breeding mares with colts, and a fine stallion of the Morgan stock, representing a value of $10,000 or $12,000; about thirty head of fine tame Devon cattle, including bull, milch cows, and their increase for the use of the island. valued altogether at about $1,200 or $1,500; and finally, perhaps, 150 head of cattle running wild in the valleys and over the mountains, and affording, whenever desired, an extra supply of fresh beef for the use of the permanent residents on the island.

How this splendid property will "pan out" in the future, in the shape of dividends to the stockholders (and I'm not one of them, so this may be accepted as an unbiased account,) may best be judged after an examination of the results of the past year's operations. The cash receipts and earnings of the company, from the sales of live stock—sheep, sheep-skins, wool—and from sundry other sources, reached $76,000 07, and the net profits, after paying all expenses, amounted to $48,000 08, leaving the company with no outstanding debts or obligations whatever. A splendid result, that carries its own lesson with it. After all, is it not the true "golden fleece" to be found on the back of the patient sheep?

[The correspondent being somewhat incorrect in his statements in reference to Santa Catalina, we have inquired of the parties here and give a correct account.]

Success like this has naturally had the effect of stimulating the already popular wool-producing industry, and many similar enterprises have sprung up in the State, among them, the San Joaquin Valley Wool-Growers' Association, the Santa Catalina Island Company, and the Gaudalupe Island Company, all engaged in the production of wool. The Island of Santa Catalina, off Los Angeles, embraces an area of some 46,000 acres, was bonded to Ex-Governor Downey, and others, who tried to negotiate a sale to an English company, the price asked being $1,250,000. The sale, however, fell through, and it is still the property of James Lick, of San Francisco, Governor Downey, of this city, being the agent. The island is devoted to sheep raising, and also has mines of copper and silver. The breed of sheep on this island are Spanish Merino and its grades, and there are vast flocks of them.

A VAST GOAT RANCH.

The Guadalupe Company hold under the same grant as the Santa Cruz corporation, that of Gov. Alvarado, made in 1839 by virtue of a decree of the Supreme Government of Mexico issued in 1838. The principal business of this company is the raising of Angora Goats. The island is situated further down the coast, off Lower California, some ninety miles from the main land and about fifty-two hours' sail in a southwesterly direction from the port of San Diego. Its area is three times as great as that of either of the other islands, being twenty-six miles long by about ten miles wide. It embraces about 160,000 acres of grazing land, besides 4,500 acres of pine and cedar forest, with some small groves of palm on the north end. The island is described as mountainous and highly picturesque, presenting to the eye changing views as its varying scenery passes in perspective. It has one high mountain—Mount Augusta—lifting its head 3,000 feet above the sea level, and many ranges of rolling hills, giving climbing facilities to the 20,000 or 30,000 common goats that roam in all their native strength over the place. Gaudalupe Island has natural grazing capacity for the support of 75,000 goats. These animals—that is, the common breed of California—have lived in a semi-wild state upon the island in great numbers for years past, thousands having been slaughtered annually for their

HIDES AND TALLOW ALONE.

They subsist and fatten solely upon the natural grasses and aromatic shrubs, the latter of which constitute their favorite cropping. The Angora will eat, according to the testimony of old flock-masters, no less than forty-five more varieties of shrubs and plants than any other fleece-bearing animal, consuming with impunity many growths that are poisonous to sheep and other animals.

So mild, genial, and agreeable is the climate of Guadalupe that the flocks there require no artificial shelter whatever, at any time of the year. Kids are permitted to be dropped in any month, as it can be done in perfect safety.

At the head of this colossal enterprise is William M. Landrum, of Watsonville—familiarly called by the boys who first brought the Angora goat to this coast in 1861, and who has ever since stood by the beautiful animal, through evil as well as good report. He and his partner are believed to now own, at their home ranch in Santa Cruz county, the finest flock of pure-breed Angoras in America. Associated with Mr. Landrum in the Guadalupe Company, which also is a joint stock association, incorporated under law of the State, with a capital of half a million dollars, is Col. George W. Dent, well-known not only as one of "the Dent family," but better as an active California business man, and other capitalists. Besides the large flocks of native goats on the island—a short, straight-haired species, the ewes well-suited to breeding to pure Angora bucks—the company has purchased 100 choice Angora bucks and over 1,200 fine fleece-bearing ewes, from seven-eighths Angora blood to pure breed. The noble race is to be used in ameliorating the plebian stock, and the company count on from 7,000 to 10,000 grade kids the coming year as the result of the skillful coupling of the two races. The offspring of the second cross is a fleece-bearing goat, producing wool worth about sixty cents a pound. The fleece of pure breeds brings $1 to $1 25 per pound, and the demand exceeds the supply.

CALL ME GEORGE.—The double lives men live in their relations with women, the irresponsible and unscrupulous dealings they indulge in privately, are well illustrated in the following incident:

Hon. George Bancroft was promenading one evening on the veranda of the Ocean House at Newport, with a gay New York belle, not out of her teens. In course of conversation she addressed her companion as "Mr. Bancroft." "Now, really, my dear Miss C——," said the ancient man, "you must not call me that—call me George!" A few moments afterwards they returned to the drawing-room and mingled with the throng, when, to the amazement and horror of our venerable historian, the mischievous girl exclaimed loud enough for the whole company to hear, "George, I have dropped my glove—please go and look for it." Bancroft went but did not return.

CODE COMMENTARIES!

BY CHAS. LINDLEY,

Late Code Commissioner.

PART I. of this work is now ready for the profession. It contains:

I.—Disintegration and Integration of Legal Systems.

II.—Historic Glance at Codification.

III.—Practical Codification and Amendment.

IV.—Appendix. Letter to H. H. Haight and others—Future Treatment of the Codes.

Under the first head are briefly treated—The Philosophy of Law; The Science of Law; Common and Statute Law—their Flexibility and Rigidity; Fragmentary Expression of the Common Law; Effect of Political and Social Changes on Legal Systems.

Under the second head is contained a Historic Glance at Codification, including Roman, French, Spanish, Canadian and American. Thus far the work presents a clear, terse view of the subject, and brings the reader to the third head, Practical Codification, with his mind better prepared to appreciate what follows.

Under the third head, Practical Codification, are the sub-heads: Axiomatic Propositions; Preparation of the Act authorizing Codification; Requisite Qualification of Commissioners; Compensation; Time for the Performance of the Work; and Rules for Codification and Amendment. These rules, seventeen in number, are elaborated and illustrated by sections drawn from the Code.

The work has an eight page Appendix, in the form of a letter to H. H. Haight and others, touching the author's connection with the Code Commission and the causes of his resignation; touching also the future treatment of the Codes. The last is an important matter, and should engage the attention of every lawyer in the State. The author is evidently master of his subject, and has given to it an unsparing, analytical, demonstrative treatment. The work has come in a most opportune moment, containing, as it does, most important recommendations as to the mode of amending the Codes.

The work will be mailed, post paid, by SUMNER WHITNEY & CO., San Francisco, on receipt of price, $1 00. jan25 d&w

Los Angeles Herald.

THURSDAY.....FEB. 5, 1874.

The DAILY HERALD has nearly DOUBLE the Circulation of either contemporary paper published in Los Angeles. As an advertising medium it is consequently of DOUBLE their value.

The Currency.

Numerous propositions are before Congress, looking to a change in the banking system, but none of them go to the root of the matter. The privilege of issuing currency is a great one, and has been so lucrative that the policy of offering a bounty to banks has been very strongly questioned. The Goverment is the only proper source from which our currency should come. It should be a uniform currency too, every dollar of it just like every other dollar, and should be receivable for all dues, public and private. The simplest plan would be for the Government to issue legal tender notes to any one who will deposit United States bonds in their stead. The interest on the bonds so deposited should cease, until the currency is returned. Bonds bearing a low rate of interest and exchangeable for currency should be issued to an extent equal to the probable demands of the country for currency. Then banking would be free to anybody who held one of these bonds. There would be a check upon over-issues, from the fact that the interest on the bonds deposited ceases whenever currency is issued, and as soon as there was more money in circulation, than the business of the country could profitably employ, it would be retired. On the other hand as soon as a scarcity of currency occurred, the bonds would be deposited, and legal tenders called out.

The New City Charter.

Before this document is sent to Sacramento, it should be published, and fully discussed by the people. It is of too great a length for publication as a matter of news, but we have offered to give it to the public through the columns of the HERALD at a price that will barely pay the composition and extra press work. It is not at all likely that any office will be willing to do the work any cheaper, and we think the Council should either accept that offer or, if either of the other dailies will do it for less, contract with them for its publication. It is certainly inadvisable to adopt a new charter without allowing the public to know what it is, and the city ought to bear a portion of the expense, instead of throwing it all upon the papers

Another Case of Lost Confidence.

The New York Midland Railroad is one of the new roads that have been built during the past few years, on the high-pressure style. Its bonds were disposed of at ruinous discounts, and the vast sums subscribed by municipalities and individuals along its line were poured into the bottomless pit of its construction account, and while officers and contractors grew rich, the road is bankrupt. It pays no interest on its securities. The men who managed it roll in wealth, but the laborers who did the work, and operate it, are literally starving. A month or two ago, the wives of its employees made a raid on its well-filled woodyards, and supplied themselves with fuel. The telegraph brings us the news that these laborers have struck for their back pay, allowing no trains to pass over the road, and that they have even gone so far as to break open a car and distribute its contents of flour among their starving comrades. The well-fed monopolists will doubtless term these unpaid, half-starved laborers, Communists, and will wonder how they can be guilty of acts that tend to destroy the confidence of the financial world in the value of railroad bonds; but those who go below the surface will be apt to conclude that the speculators who have bankrupted the company by their mismanagement and maddened the laborers by withholding their pay till they are on the verge of starvation, are the real Communists and disorganizers.

SEVERAL VINEYARDS in various parts of the State have been rooted up, and the ground occupied by them planted in other products. The only cases that have come to our knowledge in this section, are where the land was inside the city, and had become too valuable for such use. Still the value of a vineyard depends so much on the character of the soil, the variety of the grape, and the manner in which it is handled when made into wine, that it is not strange that carelessness in planting has resulted unprofitably in some cases.

SENATOR SARGENT has procured the passage of a resolution instructing the Finance Committee of the Senate to inquire into and report upon the expediency of returning to California, free of duty, the grain sacks manufactured in this State which have been sent abroad with grain.

HOUGHTON has introduced a bill in the House to incorporate the Southern Trans-Continental Railroad. If incorporating railroad companies with high-sounding names would cheapen transportation, the Grangers, occupation would soon be gone.

THE recklessness with which appropriations for national purposes have been made, has induced Mr. Garfield to revise the whole system, and he will soon offer a bill for that purpose.

BNAI BERITH.

The Convention of the Israelitish Order of the "Sons of the Covenant" at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.

The second quinquennial session of the Constitutional Grand Lodge of Bnai Berith of the United States began here this morning. The convocation was called to order by Julius Bien of New York, Grand Saar of the Order, who welcomed the delegates in a few appropriate words. A temporary organization was effected by the election of Joseph Koch as temporary chairman. A Committee on Credentials was appointed, and the lodge adjourned until two o'clock P. M.

THE DELEGATES.

On reassembling, the Committee on Credentials reported 159 delegates present. Senior Koch, of Washington, D. C., was elected permanent President by a unanimous vote, and on being conducted to the platform, acknowledged the honor in fitting terms, receiving it as a compliment to his district rather than to himself personally, and expressing the hope that the Convention would show similar unanimity in all their actions, and work harmoniously for the benefit of the Order. The following Vice-Presidents were then elected: First District—M. Goodhead, of New York. Second District—M. J. Maack, of Cincinnati. Third District—William Robenstein, of Richmond, Va. Fourth District—S. Salsburg, of San Francisco. Fifth District—Aaron Goodman, of Baltimore. Sixth District—Simon Rosenfels, of St. Paul. Seventh District—Adolph Loeb. Secretaries: J. Isaacs, of Philadelphia; Louis Abler, of Washington, and A. T. Jonas, of Philadelphia.

The rules of the Convention of 1868 were adopted pending the report of the Committee on Rules, a motion to adopt the rules of 1868 permanently being voted down, and a committee of fifteen on rules was appointed. President Koch then came forward and stated to the Convention that he had of his own motion procured a testimonial to be presented to Mr. Frankland, a prominent member of the Order in Memphis, expressive of their honor and admiration of his

during the late yellow fever epidemic in that city, standing at his post through the darkest days of the pestilence and never faltering for a moment in the discharge of his duty to his stricken fellows. The remarks of the President were received with applause, and on motion were adopted as the sense of the Convention.

Mr. Frankland, who was not in the hall at the time, was found and conducted to the platform by a committee appointed for the purpose, and President Koch, in a few well chosen and highly complimentary remarks, frequently interrupted by applause, presented the testimonial, which was in the form of a rich and beautiful Maltese cross, covered with emblems of the Order, to Mr. Frankland, who, deeply affected, responded in language broken with emotion, saying that he had simply done his duty and followed the teachings of his beloved Order. He recounted some of the scenes of the season of suffering and sorrow through which his city had passed, and alluded in touching terms to his own bereavement.

The scene was very impressive, few of the delegates being able to control their emotion.

RESOLUTION OF SORROW.

Dr. Wise, of Cincinnati, offered a resolution of sorrow for the loss of their brethren of the South who had fallen during the epidemic, and of sympathy for their surviving friends and relations, which was adopted unanimously.

The report of President Bien, of the Executive Committee, was then presented, showing the Order to be in a flourishing condition, having doubled the number of its lodges and its membership since the last Convention. The President said he was unable to present to-day the full statistics of the Order, but could state that there are seven districts, with 205 lodges and about 18,000 members.

THE TREASURER'S REPORT

shows total receipts of $7,337 68. Total expenditures, $6,388 40. Balance on hand, $1,449 28.

The report was adopted and resolutions of thanks to Mr. Bien were passed. The Convention adjourned until to-morrow.

To-night a grand concert, largely attended, was given at Kingsbury Music Hall under the auspices of the local lodges.

Prospect of Genuine Reform in the Making of Appropriations.

General Garfield, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, has so far progressed on the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill that he expects to be able to lay it before the committee this week, or certainly next. The chiarman, in connection with this bill, has made a careful examination of the laws from 1776 up to the present time in reference to the executive branch of the government, and has carefully noted how step by step these departments have expanded in their functions. The past few years, however, have witnessed the building up of an establishment of immense proportions and sufficient to meet almost double the actual needs of the government. The bill, therefore, will be more intelligently compiled than has ever occurred before and will embrace a complete overhauling of the organization of the executive departments. The committee today again considered the bill to revise, consolidate and amend the statutes in relation to estimates, appropriations and public accounts, and finished it down to the twenty-fifth section. The improvements contemplated by this bill are numerous, and in many important respects are borrowed from the English system. The stating and classification of estimates, in anticipation of the bill, was suggested to the Secretary of the Treasury a year ago, and this year are made up in partial accordance with the general plan provided in the bill. There are provisions which will put a check upon the appropriations frequently and ignorantly made, by requiring that estimates for light houses, custom houses, post offices, forts, rivers, harbors, or other public works or improvements, shall be accompanied by a detailed estimate of the whole cost of the work, and all subsequent estimates for any such works to show the originally estimated cost, the whole amount previously appropriated and the amount expended, and also, where there is a subsequent estimate above the originally estimated cost, the reason for the excess, and the anticipated amount must be fully stated. Where estimates for salaries, contingent or current and ordinary expenses exceed the amount appropriated for the preceeding year they must be accompanied by explanatory notes. All salaries must be kept distinct, and amounts submitted for additional employees must be stated separately. The object of this is to prevent the smuggling in of an increase of force without the knowledge of the committee. The bill contains other provisions calculated to insure greater responsibility in the appropriation of money by Congress and its disbursement by the departments. There are still eleven sections of the bill to be considered. The committee will complete the bill early next week, and will press it to a passage before taking up the Legislature and the Judicial bills.—[N. Y. Herald.

To New Zealand—Letter, twelve cents for each half ounce; newspapers, two cents each. Bunker Hill.

A little over a year more, and the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill will take place. A little band of heroes, then inaugurated a struggle, which brought untold results. It is very fitting that their deeds should be commemorated. The nation at large is very justly arranging for a celebration on an extensive scale, of the centennial anniversary of this event. This will instil patriotic impulse into the souls of those of the coming generations, and prepares them for the struggles, which they, in life, must undergo. Overhanging Los Angeles is a hill similar to Bunker Hill—nay, it is larger. From it all the city can be seen and the country for miles around. On this hill also, are military marks, the remnants of a fort, which was built for the protection of liberty in this State. This hill has an avenue running along its crest, and our friend Beaudry, through whose influence chiefly it has been opened, has very appropriately named it Bunker Hill avenue. The City Surveyor has been ordered to define the grades and lines of Olive, Charity, and Bunker Hill avenue, from Hill to Hope; Second street, and Temple street, from Hill to Hope. This will bring these lands within easy reach of the business part of the city. The distance to the Court House is less than it is from the Turners Hall.

Mr. Beaudry being the owner, by perfect and indisputable title, offers the following scheme, believing that it supplies a felt want.

His various tracts have been surveyed, and platted in lots of convenient size for residences, upwards of two hundred in number, and the maps, together with abstracts of title, are kept for public inspection at his office, opposite the Pico House.

Any person desiring to purchase can inspect the land, select his lot or lots, and acquire the same, if not previously taken up by another, upon the following terms: Purchasers not being restricted to a single lot.

The purchaser or his successor to pay the fixed price of the lands selected by him, in equal monthly installments, as follows: On lots valued at $400 and upwards, but not to exceed $500, $15 per month; on those valued at $300 and upwards, and less than $400, $10 per month. Payments in gold or currency, and no interest demanded. For cash in hand a reduction of fifteen per cent. will be made.

The purchaser to have immediate possession upon payment of the first installment and on execution and delivery of contract.

The right of the purchasers may be assignable by him, and his assigns to succeed to all his privileges and liabilities; standing in all respects towards the vendor as an original obligor.

Purchasers shall not be restricted to the payment of the installments as above shown, but may make payments in advance, and on all such payments he will allow one per cent. per month, from the date of payment until said payment would become due.

Upon selection of a lot or lots by a purchaser, and payment of the first installment with five dollars, in U. S. gold coin, as expenses on the document, Mr. Beaudry with the purchaser, will execute and acknowledge a sealed agreement, embodying the above conditions; and, upon full payment, according thereto, the undersigned will execute and deliver to the purchaser, or his lawful representatives, on demand, a good and sufficient and absolute deed of conveyance of the contracted lands, in form of warranty against grantor, the grantee paying the cost of such deed.

These proposals will be kept open until the 12th day of February, 1874.

The location is very desirable. All that has heretofore been lacking is water, and that want is now fulfilled. Anywhere else, in as desirable location, lots readily command from $500 to $1,000 and even higher rates. This property is put at the astonishing low price of from $300 to $400. But this is not all. This may be paid in currency and a reduction of fifteen per cent will be made for cash in hand.

George C. Gibbs, of San Gabriel Mission, who has been on a six weeks visit to the Atlantic seaboard, returned a few days since and made his appearance on the streets of Los Angeles for the first time yesterday. He looks none the worse for wear, and seems to rather enjoy the fun of seeing the mercury coquetting with the figures below zero.

Mr. Lieber, of the Gambrinus Brewery, who, until recently, has had his brewery on First, near Los Angeles street, has leased the commodious brick building on the corner of Second and Spring streets. He is putting into it the most approved appliances for brewing. When completed it will probably be one of the most perfect establishments of its kind in town.

A dray team with the dray partly loaded with vinegar, ran away on Los Angeles street yesterday, and fetched up on the sidewalk in front of the milliner's show window, on the corner of Los Angeles and Commercial streets. The sudden stop gave one of the barrels of vinegar sufficient momentum to introduce itself at the door of the milliner's store, into which it would undoubtedly have rolled had not some of the bystanders mistook the contents for whisky and rushed to the rescue.

Grange Items.

W. L. of State Grange, Bro. J. W. A. Wright, has gone to attend the session of the National Grange, at St. Louis. His expenses were paid by personal friends.

A Territorial Grange was to have been organized at Denver, Col., on the 27th ult., by Gen. Deputy J. L. Brown. There are about forty subordinate Granges in the Territory, with a membership aggregating 1,200. All these, excepting two, have been organized since December 6th.

The Granges of northwestern Missouri, eastern Kansas and southern Nebraska were in council in St. Joseph, Mo., on the 24th ult., and adopted the platform of the Illinois Farmers' Association. They also added two resolutions, setting forth determined opposition to special legislation, and demanding an uniform currency, on the ground that they were now obliged to sell their grain on a gold basis, and to buy their supplies on the basis of depreciated paper money.

Articles of incorporation of the Grand Island Grange Co-operative Company, organized for the purpose of carrying on a general mercantile business, in combination with the business of buying, storing, shipping and selling grain and other agricultural merchandise and mechanical products; also to carry on wagon-making, machine and blacksmithing business, etc., and to further the agricultural interests of the county generally, were filed in Sacramento the last week. Capital, $100,000 in shares of $100 each

Could Not Make a Race.

The Turf, Field and Farm says Mr. Brewster, who has returned from his visit to California, reports that all attempts to make a match between Thad. Stevens and Joe Daniels have proved abortive. Mr. Treat was offered every inducement to make a match, but declined. It would seem he did not care to risk the reputation of his horse in another four mile contest with an animal of recogoized merit. Mr. Treat talks of coming East next summer with Stevens, but we think the California champion is not anxious to face our best horses on our own tracks. We hope Mr. Treat will come East with his horse next summer, but shall not be disappointed if he does not come. Joe Daniels has been kept in racing form all winter, and so has Stevens, but Hubbard has been laid up, having been fired and blistered on both jaw bones. He has passed out of California hands, he and Daniels having been repurchased. These horses will remain on the Pacific slope some weeks yet, and then be brought back to the Atlantic seaboard. True Blue is lame, and Brewster doubts if he will be able to race through another campaign.

A Newark (N. J.) husband brought home a hunk of molasses candy for his wife, the other evening. His wife wears false teeth. The candy was of an adhesive nature. She helped herself to a generous hunk, and planted both rows of teeth in it. There they remained. Strenuous were her efforts to release them, but she was not successful. She wanted her mouth free that she might say something to him. She wanted to say something to him that the candy not only prevented, but the tone of which from its prominent quality it debauched. But she could not get her jaws apart. Then she went to the sink and dropped the whole mass, teeth and candy in a basin. Again she looked at him as if she was on the point of saying something he would be interested in, but every effort was broken up and destroyed by the orphaned jaws. Imagine a woman, a direct descendant of Eve, in such a fix. Think of the mighty thoughts surging and battling through her brain; think of the torrent of eloquence bursting from her throat with a roar and striking out into the air a vapor; think of the blazing eyes, the distended nostrils, the trembling frame, the nervous hands. Picture her thus, tearing the miserable candy from the glistening teeth, and comprehend if you can, O. man! the velocity with which the freed teeth were slapped into their place, and with which that wretched man subdued his merriment and tore out of that house.—[Danbury News.

The following advertisement appears every now and then in the Corriered Torino:

"Lessons in German, English and Hungarian given at moderate rates by L. Kossuth, 164 Strada Nuova."

The advertiser is none other than the celebrated dictator of Hungary. He is now almost utterly forgotten, even in Hungary; he has grown very old, and is now so poor that he will gladly give you a lesson for a single franc. This would seem very humiliating for him, and yet he is proud of his poverty. He says: "Three years ago, my friends at home, in Hungary, offered me a present of 50,000 florins. I rejected the offer, and never have regretted it, even when I was hungry, and had no money to pay for a fire."

Concering the proposed removal of the Cachise band of Apaches from the Chiricahue Reserve to New Mexico, the "Citizen" says: Were it not that if taken to Cañada de Alamosa, the Cachise Indians would quite surely make raids into Arizona, we would favor their removal there sooner, as it would be better for our mining and stock-raising interests. The way to settle the Cachise-Apache difficulties is to place these Indians under military charge of General Crook, with full power to teach them a lesson and necessary obedience. At the same time circumstances limits their unrestrained range.

One of Brigham Young's daughters who had abandoned the Mormon faith managed to elude his espionage yesterday and escaped on the Eastern-bound train. Her intention is to lecture against Mormonism in the East.

Wool buyers have operated to the extent of their actual wants during the week, and the market closes quiet. Prices are not quotably off. There is a feeling on the part of holders of medium and lower grades of wool, which are not in liberal request at the extreme prices now quoted. The class of goods in which these wools enter are not moving freely, and the prices realized by manufacturers are said to be unremunerative at present. In raw material the stock is not very excessive, but is ample for the requirements of the trade, even under the active demands, and holders are disposed to yield only to induce manufacturers to operate more freely, and not in consequence of a pressure of stock. California is a shade easier on the extreme quotations, with trade a little less active than last week. The sales are 132,000 lbs and 155 bales at 26@27c for spring, 21½@30c for fall, 73@75c for scoured. At Boston the market is a little more active, with considerable sales, but no material change in prices. The stock is not large enough to crowd upon the market, and holders are firmer. California continues liberal, the lower grades of fall easy. The best lots of spring and free fall bring full prices. The sales are 57,000 for fall, 1,736 for spring, 40,312 for pulled.

The Supreme Court has decided a case involving a question of importance to business men. A note became due on the 27th day of February, 1869. Full four years under the law was due the payee "in which to bring an action upon it after it became payable, but no more." An action commenced on the 1st of March, 1873, was, the Court held, therefore, too late; "and this, whether the Sunday, which was the day that immediately succeeded the day on which the note became due, be or not considered a portion of the four years limitation." The issue of the calculation of the four years, it will be seen, included the question of including one and excluding the other, of either the first day or the last, and also the question of the last day being Sunday.

Senator Duffy has introduced a bill in the Senate granting an amnesty to Henry Meiggs for offenses committed by him in this State prior to January 1st, 1855. Meiggs is the well-known capitalist and railroad operator of Chili and Peru. In 1853-54 he was a member of the San Francisco Board of Aldermen and a large operator in lumber, building enterprises, etc. A wharf in that city now bears his name. He became largely involved and suddenly took "French leave." Meiggs is enterprising and perhaps honest, but it would be a bad precedent to grant him amnesty in face of the criminal laws which hold good against the poor self-exiled.

In referring to the introduction of ramie, the Gilroy Advocate says that Mr. W. N. Furlong has entered into the subject of introducing ramie into this vicinity with a spirit which will be productive of good results. He has sufficient faith in the enterprise to purchase twenty acres of fine land at San Felipe, where he will shortly commence setting out plants. This move will soon fully demonstrate to our farmers whether ramie will justify the extravagant stories told about it or not. Several others who have the character of land required will also put in plants this year, and Gilroy will yet become as famous for her ramie as she is for her tobacco.

Mr. J. C. Mersereau, the well known Register of the New York Gold Exchange, has again issued his valuable annual volume, containing the record of fluctuations of American gold from 1862 to 1872, inclusive, and of the clearings for 1873. This work will be found useful to all classes of business men for reference, and especially to those who deal in the precious metal. It contains the names, alphabetically arranged, of the members of the New York Gold Exchange.

There are over fifty-one counties in California. They range in size from 42 (San Francisco) to 23,472 (San Bernardino) square miles; and in population by the census of 1870, from 430 to 150,000—Mono being the least and San Francisco the most populous. The average area is 3,725 square miles, which is nearly twice the size of Delaware. Their average population is about 11,000. San Bernardino is larger than West Virginia.

NARROW-GAUGE RAILWAYS.

[From the N. Y. Sun.]

The friends of the narrow-gauge system of railways in this country have been actively though quietly at work during the past two or three years, with practical results which will surprise those who have not closely observed the progress making in this new and important movement. The narrow-gauge in the United States is chiefly associated in the popular view with the Denver and Rio Grande road, which has been regarded as an experiment, and on which the new gauge has been practically tested with the most satisfactory results. In fact, however, there are at this time in the different States and Territories no less than thirty-eight different narrow-gauge roads either completed or in the course of construction, and all of the

IN ACTUAL OPERATION,

Having an aggregate of 989 miles of track already laid, and which, if finished according to the plans on which they have been begun, will give an aggregate of 3,751 miles of narrow-gauge road.

In the January number of the American Manufacturer's Journal, we find a mass of interesting statistics on this subject, showing more clearly than anything which has hitherto appeared in the progress of the narrow-gauge system, especially in the south and the far west. Of the thirty-eight roads referred to above, the longest is the Denver and Rio Grande, which has 150 miles of completed track, and is to be extended to a total length of 870 miles; the Cairo and St. Louis road, which is to 150 miles in length, 144 miles of track being already laid; the Utah Northern road of 160 miles with 70 miles completed; and the Kansas Central road, 560 miles long, 65 miles of which has been completed. Besides the roads in the United States, there are in the British possessions of North America five narrow-gauge railways having an aggregate of 456 miles of completed road, and which, when finished, will make

AN AGGREGTE OF 811 MILES.

In addition to the roads partially or wholly built which are in actual operation in the United States, there are a large number of others already in construction. The Manufacturers' Journal gives the names of twenty-two of these which are to be from 10 to 950 miles in length, eight of them being over 200 miles in length. It also gives the names of thirty other companies organized to build narrow-gauge roads.

So far as reports have been made concerning the practical working of the narrow-gauge system, its results have been highly encouragi g. The Denver and Rio Grande road for the first ten months of 1873 showed net traffic earnings amounting to nearly 49 per cent. of the gross receipts. The Toronto, Grey and Bruce road in Canada for the year ending June 30, 1873, reports

NET TRAFFIC EARNINGS

Of 34 per cent., and the Toronto and Nipissing for the same year of 39½ per cent. The Arkansas Central road, for its short line of thirty-four miles completed, showed net earnings at the rate of $2,000 per mile per year. We do not know what this road cost, but the first division of the Denver and Rio Grande road cost only $13,500 per mile, with its equipment, while the Canada roads are said to have averaged $15,000 per mile.

THE GREAT ARGUMENT

Urged in favor of the narrow-gauge system is the saving made in dispensing with unnecessary dead weight in the cars—weight which it costs just as much to move as if it was paying freight. The argument is very simple. Practical experience has shown that ten of the narrow-gauge cars carry as much freight as eight broad-gauge cars, while one narrow-gauge car, loaded with five and a half tons of freight, weighs no more than a broad-gauge car empty. But there is also a very great saving in

THE COST OF CONSTRUCTION

And equipment of narrow-gauge roads over those of the ordinary gauge; while for mountainous regions the narrow-gauge has an immense advantage over wide in respect to its superior facilities for taking trains over sharp curves and up ascending grades. Indeed, trains can be run over a narrow-gauge road with comparative ease where it would be impossible to either build or operate a road of the common kind.

Whatever opinion railroad men may unite on in respect to narrow-gauge tracks for the great established thoroughfares of traffic, there can be no doubt that their introduction will be of immense value in developiug new sections of the country where railroad facilities are required, but where the capital is wanting to build roads on the expensive plan in general use.

BREVITIES FOR THE LADIES.

Vicksburg offers a reward for the recovery of an old lady, aged one hundred and eleven, who, it is supposed, has been kidnapped by some felonious journalist from a rival city, desirous to secure her obituary for his own local items.

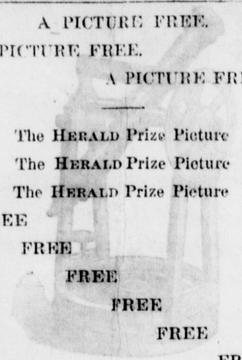

One of the charges for which an artillery officer was recently cashiered, specified that on a certain occasion he entered a store in Sitka, Alaska, and, seating himself on the floor beside an old squaw, took her pipe and smoked it. Such conduct was unbecoming an officer and gentleman.

There are four women decked with the French Cross of the Legion of Honor—Rosa Bonheur, the painter; Madame Dubar, Superior of the Convent of the Sœurs l'Esperance, at Nancy; Lady Pigott, for her devotedness to the wounded during the Franco-Prussian war; and M'lle Bertha Rocher, of Havre, for founding a hospital.

Miss Minnie Tappan, an Indian girl, about sixteen years of age, died at Howard University, on Sunday morning last. The deceased was a survivor of the Chivington massacre, in Wyoming, several years since. She was adopted by Colonel Tappan, formerly a special Indian Commissioner, who sent her to Howard University to be educated. She was an apt pupil, and made rapid progress in her studies.

Mrs. Webb, of Melbourne, has published a pamphlet entitled the Woman's Advocate, in which she recommends that a bill should be introduced into Parliament for establishing a widow's fund, contributed to by every husband, that no widow may be left destitute. Also, a maiden's fund, to which all bachelors must contribute, that no maidens may be left destitute after forty.

THE attention of the business community of Los Angeles city and county is invited to the facilities of this office for executing every description of
BOOK AND JOB PRINTING
Fully alive to the inferior manner in which a great part of the Job Printing in Southern California has hitherto been executed, the proprietors of this establishment have determined to institute a new order of things in this business.
A NEW POWER PRESS,

LARGE SHEET POSTER,
either plain or in colors, is already running, and driven by STEAM POWER,
which will also be attached to their new and ELEGANT Job Presses.
The facilities for turning out work will thus be equal to most and superior to many offices in San Francisco.
A SPLENDID ASSORTMENT
AND MATERIAL,
of the most modern designs and approved Eastern manufacture, has been selected. And it is intended so to equip and furnish this department with
THE BEST PRESSES,
THE FINEST TYPE,
AND THE
MOST MODERN APPLIANCES, AS TO MAKE THE
HERALD JOB OFFICE
THE MOST COMPLETE
IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.
They have engaged as foreman of this department, one of the most experienced Book and Job Printers in the country; and the presses will be superintended by a Skilled Pressman from one of the largest offices in New England.
PAMPHLETS
Will be printed from New Type, and the greatest care exercised to insure accuracy and freedom from typographical errors.

The Santa Barbara Press
An Independent Newspaper,
Devoted to the Interests of Southern California.
J. A. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.
AS THE CHARMING CHARACter of Southern California, and more especially that most favored section called Santa Barbara, becomes known to the world, it is not surprising that a widespread and growing interest in this region should be awakened. It is the constant aim of the Press to furnish perfectly reliable information on all points of interest to tourists, invalids and home-seekers, which we are now able to do with greatly increased facilities.
While the PRESS seeks to promote the prosperity of all Southern California by all legitimate and honorable methods, it is more directly interested in the growth and coming greatness of Santa Barbara. The unequaled loveliness of the climate, its almost incredible healthfulness, the beauty of the scenery, the wondrous variety and fertility of the soil, the almost unlimited range of products which flourish there without irrigation, will be known from time to time by facts which cannot be controverted, in the columns of the PRESS. Any intelligent person can become familiar with this part of the State by reading the PRESS for a year.
Terms of the Daily, per annum.....$7 00
Terms of the Weekly, per annum..... 5 00
Currency and Postoffice Money Orders taken at par.
SPECIAL INDUCEMENT.
All yearly subscribers to the WEEKLY PRESS will obtain, FREE, an Illustrated Number, and a copy of WOOD'S GUIDE to Santa Barbara, Town and County.
A WORD TO ADVERTISERS.
It is an admitted fact that the SANTA BARBARA PRESS is the leading journal of Southern California, and has a much larger circulation than any other newspaper in that section, being more chiefly read by the more thrifty families, and hence its advantages to advertisers are obvious. nov20tf
